PATRIOTISM MEANS SACRIFICE

During War there is no Patriotism without Sacrifice; sacrifice of food, clothing, home comforts and amusement; sacrifice of business itself, on which all these other things depend. But to win this war, and help make the world fit to live in, all patriots have directly or indirectly pledged fortune, life and sacred honor. Yet that is not enough.

"Why, what more could there be?" Something that will be esteemed the paramount sacrifice by the loyal hearts who will cheerfully do that also, when the need is fully realized. "Thrice armed is he who hath his quarrel just"—only when backed up by every possible moral and physical auxiliary for true thinking and brave going. God helps them best who help themselves.

Our Nation is learning new estimates of values; new mutual relations of receiving and giving; new needs, ways and means for community effort—with more vital results therefrom; all leading to our re-born consciousness of the basic fact that our Nation does not glory in material things except as they condition development of higher freedom of the Soul to promote betterment of mankind in spiritual growth.

But the first duty and privilege confronting us is to win the war, compelling a finished peace by the unconditional surrender of Might-and-Wrong to Might-and-Right.

To that end, no sacrifice of non-essentials can be too great.

The next sacrifice demanded by the Goddess of Liberty is that we freely cast upon the Altar of our beloved Country our Sectarian Selfishness with the needles prejudices which we admit are not necessary to the Soul's Salvation.

Yes, that gives us pause.
But Listen!

There is no reasonable doubt of the fact that thus far we owe our splendid victories over what was considered the greatest army on earth, very largely to the magnificent Morale—the upright, honorable manly spirit maintained by our soldiers, the like of which was never known before.

That all-conquering spirit is made possible by the continuous wise and faithful uplift work of the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the regimental pastors, the Red Cross and various other unselfish agencies for promoting and sustaining spiritual Hope and Cheerfulness with the dauntless courage of practical patriotism expressed in unwavering ambition to win "over the top."

There is imperative need for more of such beneficent agencies. The demand ever exceeds the supply.

There is an ever-echoing cry from Macedonia, "COME OVER AND HELP US!"

Answering that sacred call, the Christian people of Glendale are straining every nerve as thus far demanded, buying Thrift Stamps, War Stamps and War Bonds; meanwhile doing hundreds of other individual and community deeds to show their devotion to our Country and our love for our heroes "over there."

Now comes the opportunity to do one more thing—one new and glorious thing, worth more than a regiment of fresh volunteers.

It is this. Select one or two of the largest auditoriums in Glendale, and all meet there for all religious public service, keeping the other houses of worship unopened during the war—each front door bearing this super-Christian legend: "CLOSED DURING THE WAR; FOR GOD AND COUNTRY."

Christian Fraternity, Love and Good Works would flourish as never before. The Christian world would sing the praises of the New and Greater Glendale, who could thus send to the Front hundreds of loyal workers to fight without guns behind the men behind the guns.

WALT LE NOIR CHURCH.

NOT TWINS, BUT SISTERS

A lady with two little girls of almost exactly the same size and dressed alike, but with nearly two years difference in their ages, got on the cars at Tropico avenue the other day and when the conductor came around the mother handed him one full fare and one half-fare, which he accepted and rang up but did not look satisfied. Finally after collecting some more fares he turned to the little girls and asked, "Are you little girls twins?" The answer came quick and pat from the elder, "No, we ain't twins, we're sisters."

BIRTHS AND DEATHS

There were 18 births and 22 deaths in Glendale during July, according to the vital statistics reported by the City Clerk. The death list includes 10 persons more than 60 years of age, and about one third of the number came to this city from elsewhere.

CONGRESSMAN RANDALL GOES TO EUROPE

Representative Randall will soon leave Washington for France and Italy to investigate the delays in overseas mail service. He will act as a member of the House committee on post offices.

Mr. Randall also will observe conditions as to the serving of liquors to soldiers in France and the use of American foodstuffs in the manufacture of liquors.

He will pass a month with California soldiers at the front.

"I will be glad," he announced, "to deliver any message, personally, whenever possible, for mother, sister or sweetheart of any California boy, especially if he is in hospital or has not been heard from in a reasonable time."

NO TIME FOR POLITICS

Judge Frederick W. Houser, who is a candidate for re-election to his present position as judge of the superior court of this county, and who is chairman of the Red Cross at Alhambra, says that this is no time for doing politics; but that everyone who has the interests of humanity at heart, should devote his extra energies to winning the war; besides a political campaign is an expensive luxury, and if the money spent in that way were given to the Red Cross, it would go a long way toward the production of many of the necessities for our boys "over there" Judge Houser is a violator of his own court rules, in that he permits women to do knitting in his court room while court is in session

Give up your luxuries that the Kaiser may be made to give up his ambitions.

A WOMAN CANDIDATE FOR SUPERIOR JUDGE

There are twenty Superior Judges in Los Angeles County. Eight are to be elected this year, and the claims of Miss Orfa Jean Shontz to become one of these eight should receive the careful consideration of the voters at the coming primary.

Miss Shontz has been connected with the work of the Superior Courts for seven years, and was appointed a Referee of the Girls' Juvenile Court three years ago. Since that time she has heard over 5000 matters of that nature without a single reversal of a decision.

This is a fine opportunity to show our faith in equal suffrage by electing a proven candidate, giving her greater power along the same lines she has made so successful, and incidentally giving Los Angeles county the only Woman Judge in the United States.

MAILING YOURSELF MONEY

Every time you stick a Thrift or War Savings Stamp on your card you are mailing money to yourself to be received later with interest. Cashing in these stamps is going to be better than "getting money from home," for with the money comes the reminder that you contributed to the great victory which then will have been completely won.

BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

The Board of Trustees will act as a Board of Equalization commencing on August 12th, and this meeting will afford to property owners that consider that their property is assessed too high, an opportunity to present their cause to the Board and have their assessment remedied.

FRATERNAL INSURANCE IS THREATENED BY NEW LAW

A drive is on in California for the enactment of a compulsory health insurance law similar to the one which Bismarck put in force in Germany, and which, together with other laws of a like nature, Ambassador Gerard says has reduced the wage earners of that country almost to a condition of serfdom.

One of the first effects of this forced insurance would be to destroy the splendid system of voluntary insurance now conducted by lodges, fraternal societies, and other organizations. The danger was pointed out at the Convention of the Knights of Pythias just held in the City of Oakland, several prominent members of the organization denouncing the proposition and none defending it.

Compulsory health insurance has been thoroughly investigated by Commissions and Legislators in the Eastern States, and without exception has been emphatically turned down. Maryland, Massachusetts, New York, and also the United States Government, have all rejected it.

The cost of the insurance in California has been variously estimated at from twenty-five to fifty million dollars a year, that is from ten to twenty dollars annually for each person, or from fifty to one hundred dollars for each family of five members. This alone condemns the system in the mind of all people except the host of politicians and job seekers who alone would profit by it. The proposition comes before the voters for their decision at the November election.

Remember! the men in our Army and Navy do not expect luxuries. Should we at home expect them? Buy necessities and War Savings Stamps.

PROCEEDINGS OF BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The Board of Trustees assembled at 8:20 p. m., August 8, 1918. All members present at roll call.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read, and on motion approved.

A communication was read from Mr. J. McMillan, General Manager of the Pacific Electric Railway Company, stating that in accordance with the request made by the President of the Board of Trustees, the company proposed to erect a small building for the accommodation of passengers on the parkway at the Northeast corner of Glendale Avenue and Broadway, and requesting permission for the erection of the same, which, on motion of Trustee Henry, was granted.

On motion, it was ordered that bids for the furnishing of supplies and furniture for the fire house be opened at this time.

Bids were opened, read and publicly declared.

On motion of Trustee Henry, all bids were referred to the City Manager to examine and bring in a report at the next regular meeting.

A communication was read from the City Manager making a detailed report as to the Magnolia Avenue Playground, which was, on motion, referred to the Public Works Committee, consisting of Trustees Henry, Muhleman and Jackson.

The City Clerk reported that the receipt of the ordinance and transcript of proceedings in connection with the annexation of the Kenilworth District to the City of Glendale had been acknowledged by the Secretary of the State, under date of August 7, 1918.

Reports of the Building Inspector and Treasurer for the month of July were presented to the Board.

The City Manager reported that the Street Department is making repairs on Broadway west of Central Avenue; that the lot cleaning work is about completed.

A motion of Trustee Muhleman was adopted, that when the Board adjourn

The City Attorney reported the receipt of a letter from the Capital Issues Committee in Washington in reply to the application of the City of Glendale for permission to issue bonds to the extent of $150,000 for the acquisition of municipal gas plant, communication stated that the application had been forwarded to the sub-committee at San Francisco.

The City Attorney stated that, in his opinion, it would be impossible to secure the voters' approval of this bond issue under present war conditions, and requested instructions from the Board as to whether the application referred to the Railroad Commission should be allowed to come to a hearing or be deferred for the present.

Trustee Henry offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

AT THE PALACE GRAND

We have an opportunity in today's program at the Palace Grand to make the acquaintance of an old friend in a new guise. We have all read the famous book by Harriet Beecher Stowe, which had such tremendous influence in crystallizing the thought duced in pictures, and here it is, starring no less a personage than dainty little Marguerite Clark in the double role of "Little Eva" and "Topsy." It goes without saying, that this delightful presentation of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will meet a hearty reception in Glendale. There will also be one reel of comedy and also Burton Holmes Travels to round out the program. There will be a children's matinee at 2:30 and the two evening performances at 6:45 and 8:45.

"Cecilia of the Pink Roses," is the title of the beautiful story that is to be presented as the principal feature of Sunday's offering. This is the first great film production of winning Marion Davies, and is an interpretation of Katherine Haviland Taylor's popular novel. Smiling Billy Parsons appears again, too, in a very good two-reel comedy entitled "Matching Billie." Matinee at 2:30, evening shows at 6:45 and 8:45.

For Monday, August 12, the Palace Grand presents a big musical comedy success direct from New York. It has been adapted for the screen, and stars Constance Talmadge. "Good Night, Paul" is a bonanza of laughter, full of fun and thrills. Bruce's Wonder Outdoor Scenes complete the program. Matinee at 2:30. Evening shows at 7:00 and 8:45.

Vivian Martin, the little star who always pleases, will appear on Tuesday in her latest comedy romance, "Viviette." A Paramount picture. "Just Like Dad," a Christie Comedy, will add a touch of hilarity. Children's matinee at 2:30. Evening shows at 7:00 and 8:45.

The ever increasing popularity of that famous Japanese character, Sessue Hayakawa, will be enhanced by his new and greatest picture, "The City of Dim Faces," which will be seen here on Wednesday. It is a powerful drama, and shows the great Oriental actor at his best. They were gripped by a bond as firm as the wall of China itself. But one was white and one was yellow. It makes a wonderful drama. There will also be a Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew comedy. Matinee at 2:30. Evening shows at 7:00 and 8:45.

Thursday we have William S. Hart in "Shark Monroe." We are used to Bill as a cowboy, but did you ever see him as the savage skipper of a sealing schooner? He performs some daring feats in the face of a big ocean tempest. Don't miss this. For the comedy part, "Lonesome Luke" will present "That's Him." Matinee at 2:30, evening shows 7:00 and 8:45.

NEW PLAN OF P. E.

President Shoup of the Pacific Electric Railway Company has announced a radical departure in connection with the dismissal of employes from the company's service, the plan involving the departments that choose to adopt it, but not including the clerical staffs or heads of departments. It is understood that all the Operating departments have felt that the plan would be beneficial to them, giving protection to the jobs of all employes who attend to their work.

The outstanding features of the new plan are, first, that every employe who is discharged has the right of appeal and the assistance of a fellow employe in investigating the facts relating to his discharge; second that he may go all the way up the line to the President if he so chooses; and third, if then not satisfied with the justice of the decision reached, that he may refer it to an impartial tribunal not named by the company and having no responsibility except to do justice.

Mr. Shoup said:

"In connection with the new rule, which becomes effective at once, a new plan has been adopted after many conferences among the heads of departments, and those departments putting it into effect believe it will prove of benefit, in which belief I join. It is responsive to the suggestion made in the recent injunction hearing before Judge Bledsoe, by the Judge, to the effect that every employe of a public utility should be satisfied that he is given justice before being separated from his job when dismissal is for cause. Of course when there is no work, men have to be laid off no matter how well qualified.

"The chief advantage of this plan is that it brings a conclusion quickly to charges based on impartiality. The employe not only has opportunity through a fellow employe to develop his side of the case thoroughly, but after he has exhausted his rights of appeal in the company he can go outside if he chooses. There is no long wrangling over whether or no he has been properly dismissed. There is no question of power instead of justice governing the final conclusion. There are no expensive delays to the employe in discovering where he is going to land.

"The legal right of the employer to hire and discharge is not in question; nor is the right of the employe to quit his job at any time in question. The purpose of this plan goes beyond that and looks to the moral obligation of an employer after the employe has once become established with the company, to keep him in place as long as he is able to and does attend faithfully to his work as long as the work exists. With that goes a moral obligation on the part of the employe not to quit work for the particular purpose of embarrassing his employer; as stated in the circular it can succeed only as the high regard for truth and justice of those concerned help it succeed. It is not a reflection upon the supervising officers, but is intended as an aid to them. The plan is made effective with their full concurrence. Keep in mind with reference to these supervising officers that upon them rests the burden of maintaining discipline and of keeping operations under way in such safe and regular fashion as will give the service the public desires. The Pacific Electric might get along without a President for a good part of the time, but it couldn't get along, using the Transportation Department as an example, without Superintendents, Assistant Superintendents, Dispatchers, Trainmasters, and so on, who, every hour of the day carry responsibilities for directing operations, and it couldn't get along without the men on the cars who accept these directions and operate under them, and all have reciprocal obligations and many responsibilities.

"Let us see how the plan works; let us hope it will work so well we can carry it further."

MUST INSURE SAILORS

The appearance of the German submarine in American waters has caused Secretary McAdoo to issue an order requiring all American shipowners to have insured the lives of the officers and crews of their vessels trading in Atlantic and Gulf waters. Mere fishing vessels are excepted.

Heretofore, this compulsory insurance applied only to American vessels trading between the United States and various European and certain designated African ports.

The rates the Treasury charges for the insurance varies from half a cent per $100 of insurance for Atlantic coastwise trips to 15 cents per $100 for steamers crossing the war zone.

More than 70,000 officers and sailors on American merchant vessels are already under the protection of the government marine insurance.

Surgical Dressings classes are now in charge of Mrs. Barker, assisted by Mrs. Adams. Classes Monday and Wednesday afternoons.

More help is needed at the Salvage Warehouse, the old Mercantile Store, to take care of the large amount of salvage being collected by Mrs. Shaw and her assistants.

Responses have been very liberal to the appeal of the Salvage Department, but requests are again made that everything be compactly tied up to await the auto's call.

OUR BOYS FUND

The ladies of Tropico try to see that each boy from this district is provided with a sweater and comfort bag. About fifty have so far been taken care of. On Saturday, the 17th, a food sale will be held at the Grocerteria under the leadership of Mrs. Tina Hammond to provide funds for that purpose. Help our Boys.

In the near future we wish to enlarge this branch, to be able to look after our boys more thoroughly.

J. Herbert Smith, of the Glendale Grocerteria, left Glendale Tuesday night for San Francisco to visit with his son, who is in the service.

Mrs. G. Mills and family are once more residents of Glendale, having moved back from Montrose. They are at home to their friends at 132 South Jackson, in the residence recently vacated by the C. C. Widney family, who have gone to Santa Ana.

WEDDING BELLS

One of the most attractive home weddings ever celebrated in Tropico took place Wednesday evening at the home of William Shea, 308 South Brand boulevard, when his daughter, Miss Blanche Shea, became the wife of Frank Starr, formerly of Glendale, but now of Deer Lodge, Montana.

The young people have many friends here, who will join us in congratulations and "God speed." The ceremony was performed at 8:30 o'clock by Rev. C. B. Hatch, of Anaheim, under a canopy of pink carnations and ferns. Very pretty was the bride in her wedding gown of white satin. She was attended by her sister, Miss Lila Shea, as bridesmaid, another sister, Mrs. C. D. Bennett, being matron of honor. She was given away by her father; little Katherine Bennett was the ring bearer, and Richard Kier, of Los Angeles, was best man.

As a prelude to the ceremony Miss Dorothy Hobbs sang "Because," the piano accompaniment being furnished by Mrs. Noble Ripley, who played the Mendelssohn wedding march for the entrance of the bridal party.

Light refreshments were served, which included a very handsome wedding cake, and friends lingered to inspect the wonderful collection of wedding gifts with which the bride had been showered and which included silver, cut glass, linen of many sorts and kints to adorn the pretty home over which she will preside in Deer Lodge.

Nearly one hundred guests were present to witness and enjoy the attendant festivities.

The young couple left for a brief wedding trip with the expectation of returning to Glendale in a few days and leaving the first of next week for Montana.

CONCERNING SALVAGE

If you are one of those who throw bundles of loose newspapers, rusty cans and rotten rags into the alley in the hope that a Red Cross wagon will happen along and pick up your rubbish, don't imagine you are doing your country a great service, for you're not. The institution that is not managed on a business basis can never be a success, and this principle applies to charitable organizations as well as to industries run for personal profit. If your donations to the salvage department of the Red Cross are not of sufficient value to overbalance the cost of collecting them, then you are stealing the time and labor of useful men and women at a time when every minute counts and when every ounce of labor and every drop of gasoline are needed to help win the war and to provide for the welfare of those who suffer from it.—Exchange.

Mrs. Charles Walshe, of Perlita avenue, entertained at luncheon the following guests on Friday: Mrs. Van Tine, Mrs. Hacker, Mrs. Culley, Mrs. Carl Guth, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Hanky, Mrs. Mignery, Mrs. Jacobs-meyer, Mrs. Schout, Mrs. H. Grauel, Mrs. McMillen and Miss Adda Burch. Delicious refreshments were served. The luncheon was given in honor of Mrs. C. E. Hankey, who is soon to leave for the East. A beautiful towel set was given her as a testimonial from the ladies.

The Confessions of a German Deserter

Written by a Prussian Officer Who Participated in the Ravaging and Pillaging of Belgium

Copyright by Detroit Free Press

We selected guns from those lying around us in heaps and soon were ready to fight again.

We stood around half asleep, leaning on our guns, and waited to be led once more to the slaughter. A shot fell in our midst. It struck a color sergeant and smashed his right hand. He cried out from the pain. His hand was quickly bandaged. He was the first.

An eyewitness told us how this had happened. He had rested his hand on the gun barrel in the same manner as did all the others except that his hand partly covered the muzzle. The orders provide that the gun be locked if loaded. Turning to the color sergeant, who was writhing with pain, the captain roared at him: "I shall report you for punishment for your gross carelessness and for mutilating yourself in the field."

The color sergeant, a noncommissioned officer, realized that his military career was at an end. We all felt for him. During the months preceding this incident he had always associated himself with the privates.

We never learned whether he was brought before a court-martial. Punishment for self-mutilation was a daily event and many severe sentences were pronounced and then made known to all the others to serve as a deterring example. The color sergeant's place was conferred upon another, after which the captain disappeared once more in the direction of Vitry.

We marched away and halted at a point northwest of the village. Here we met other pioneers who had been gathered together from various battalions and our unit was once more brought up to 85 men. The officers told us that we would not enter the battle today. Our only duty for the time being was to keep the bridges over the Marne in good condition for the German troops fighting on the other side, so that they could be used in case the battle went against us.

We then marched to our destination, which was at the point where the Saulx flows into the Marne.

We reached our destination about six o'clock in the morning. The dead lay around in heaps everywhere. We were camping on a wooded height and could overlook the country for many kilometers in all directions. We saw shrapnel bursting by the thousands. Little could be seen of the men who were fighting despite the fact that many divisions were locked in a death struggle.

Presently we saw the fighting line. The Germans were about two kilometers behind the Marne, which flowed by directly in front of us. German cavalry in great numbers was encamped along the banks of the river. Two temporary bridges in a very dilapidated condition constructed of whatever materials were at hand were located near us. Preparations had been made to blow them up with thousands of pounds of dynamite. The electric fuses had been strung to the point where we were located and it was up to us to manipulate the switches. Connected with the battle line by telephone, we were in a position to destroy the bridges at a moment's notice.

The Fighting Became More Lively.

The fighting became more lively. We saw the French rush to attack and retire again. The fire of musketry increased and the attacks became more frequent. This continued for more than two hours.

We saw the French continuing to bring up re-enforcements constantly despite the German artillery fire.

After an extended pause the French made another attack, employing several different kinds of formations. Each time the waves of offensive troops were forced back. At three o'clock in the afternoon, under a blow which contained the full power of France, our troops were forced to retire, first slowly, then in wild flight. The exhausted Germans could not be rallied in the face of this blow. With wild confusion all tried at the same time to reach the bridges beyond which lay safety.

At this instant the cavalry which had taken cover along the river bank galloped to the bridge position. In a moment the bridge was covered with human bodies, all racing for the opposite bank. We could see this temporary structure trembling under this enormous burden.

Our officer saw the situation and he nervously pressed the telephone receiver to his left ear. His right hand was on the switch. Breathlessly he stared at the fleeing masses. "If only the telephone connections had not been broken," he muttered to himself. He knew as well as all the rest of us that he was to act on the instant that the curt order came over the wire.

It was not much that he had to do. Merely make a movement of his hands. Masses of troops continued to rush across the bridge until more than half were safely over. The bridge further above was not in such great demand, and with the lessened congestion almost all who crossed here were already safe. We could see how the first of the French units had crossed, but the bridge continued to stand.

The sergeant who manned the apparatus at this bridge became restless waiting for orders, and finally on his own initiative blew it up. Some Frenchmen and hundreds of Germans upon the bridge found their graves in the Marne.

At the same moment the officer standing next to me received the order to blow up the last bridge. He hesitated to obey, for he could still see many Germans on the other side. He could see the race for the road leading to the bridgehead as all sought safety at the same instant. There a terrible panic reigned. Many soldiers jumped into the river and tried to swim across. The pressure became greater as the thousands still on the other side tried to get back.

The message over the wire became more and more insistent. Finally the officer sprang up, rushed by the pioneer standing at the apparatus and a second later there was a terrible detonation—bridge and men were thrown into the air hundreds of meters. Just as a river at high tide races along, taking with it all manner of debris, so the surface of the Marne was covered with wood, men, torn uniforms and horses. Efforts to swim were futile, yet soldiers continued to jump into the river.

On the other side the French began to disarm such German soldiers as stood there with raised hands. Thousands of prisoners, innumerable horses and machine guns fell into the hands of the enemy. Several of our company were just about to retire with the electric apparatus when something developed which certain of our number had suspected. An error had been made and it was too late to rectify it.

The upper bridge, which had not been used to any great extent by the Germans, should have been left standing!

It had been the purpose of the staff in command to leave this bridge so that the enemy might continue its pursuit of our troops until a certain number of Frenchmen had crossed the river. The plan was to permit enough Frenchmen to pass so that they could be taken prisoner, yet, not too large a force, lest it might prove a menace to the German arms.

After these hostile troops had crossed, the plan was to destroy the bridge to prevent their being re-enforced. That was why the sergeant manning this switch had been kept waiting for the order to blow up the bridge. But the sergeant in the excitement and confusion thought that the cable to which his phone was connected had been disconnected and blew up the bridge on his own initiative while it was crowded by Frenchmen and long before the enemy could have had an opportunity to cut that cable.

At the same time the officer at the switch connected with the explosives under the second bridge received his orders. He afterwards said that the order he received was hard to make out and that he had lost his presence of mind and threw in the switch, thereby killing thousands on the bridge and leaving many other thousands to the mercy of the enemy.

Before there was time for more impressions our entire unit was ordered to Vitry to be assembled in front of the cathedral. With a sigh of relief

Cut in August Sugar Allowance No Change in Wheat Restrictions

U. S. Food Administration Outlines Duties of All Patriotic Citizens in Aiding the Sugar and Wheat Saving Program

WHAT FOOD ADMINISTRATION ASKS

YOU TO DO TO SAVE SUGAR

For the Household.

1. No household should have on hand more than two pounds of sugar at any one time for table and cooking use and not more than twenty-five pounds for canning.
2. Canning sugar must be kept separate from that purchased for household purposes so that the Food Administration inspectors may check up the quantity on hand, the amount of fruit put up and compare it with the original amount purchased. Any excess canning sugar left over MUST be returned to the grocer. It is not permitted to use this for table purposes.
3. Do all preserving without sugar wherever possible, adding it when used in the winter or at a time when sugar will be more plentiful.
4. Each person in a family is allowed two pounds of sugar per month, which means that not more than six lumps or three teaspoonfuls may be used each day by any individual without exceeding the allowance. This two-pound allotment includes that used for cooking.

For Public Eating Houses.

1. All sugar bowls should be removed from the tables and individual sugar furnished each patron.
2. Not more than two half lumps or one teaspoonful of sugar should be served a customer at a meal. He may have his choice of lump or granulated sugar but not both.

San Francisco.—Stringent rules and regulations, as well as a system of checking all purchases of sugar, have been inaugurated by the United States Food Administration for California as a result of the big cut in the State's sugar allotment for August.

Beginning August 1st maximum allowance of sugar for household purposes is cut from three to two pounds per person per month and each public eating house will be allowed only two pounds of sugar for every ninety meals served.

California's allotment of sugar for August is approximately seven millions pounds less than the quantity provided for July and in order to make up this deficit it will be necessary for every person to rigidly conserve sugar. The entire burden has not been thrown upon the individual consumer, however, but the manufacturers of candy and sweets have had a great cut made in their allotment. All of this class of business is now allowed not in excess of one-half of the quantity of sugar used in 1917.

Many complaints have been received by the food administration that people are buying quantities of sugar ostensibly for canning purposes and then diverting it to table use. Because of these reports a checking system of all purchases, both for household and canning purposes has been inaugurated. Every grocer in the State is now compelled to keep a loose leaf record of the names and addresses of purchasers of sugar for all purposes and to mail these reports once a week to the local food administrator. These will be carefully compared and checked and where it is found that any person has exceeded his or her allowance they will be rigidly prosecuted.

All sugar purchased for canning is also being checked and a force of inspectors is now at work in San Francisco, going from house to house, and checking the quantity purchased with the amount of fruits preserved. If it is found that this sugar has been diverted to table or other use and that there cannot be produced sufficient preserved fruit to justify the amount of sugar used, then the purchaser will be vigorously prosecuted. Several violators have already been detected and will be tried shortly. This system of checking is now being extended throughout the State.

While public eating houses and homes which voluntarily went on a wheatless basis have been released from further observance of the non-wheat rule, it does not mean that all restrictions on the use of wheat and wheat products have been abolished.

"When the wheat crisis became acute," said acting Federal Food Commissioner Frederick O'Brien, "thousands of hotels, restaurants and private homes voluntarily signed a pledge in which they agreed to do entirely without wheat during the present crisis. These patriotic people banished everything made of wheat or wheat products from their homes and went on a no-wheat basis.

"When it was seen that because of the immense crop of wheat and other cereals the wheat restrictions could be slightly relaxed, Herbert Hoover naturally released those who had pledged the most from their obligations.

"Until there are further announcements the people are expected to continue to conform to the household rules which allow six pounds of wheat flour and wheat products per person per month. There is also no let up in the service of wheat and wheat products in restaurants. The piling up of the great surplus necessary to insure the allies and America sufficient quantities to take care of any unforeseen crisis, makes it imperative that other checks on unlimited wheat consumption be continued."

mittee refusing to authorize the issuance of the bonds at this time, and the fact that it would now be practically impossible to buy material for the extension of the system should the bonds be voted, that further action in connection with this matter be deferred until there is a change in present conditions and regulations, and that the Railroad Commission be requested to continue the matter of fixing the valuation for the gas system until conditions will justify further action."

The City Engineer reported having had printed 3800 postal cards, which it is his intention to send to property owners and residents of the City of Glendale, informing them as to the new street number.

The Manager of the Public Service Department reported that orders had been received from the fuel administration at Washington that electricity shall not be furnished for lights used for display advertising purposes.

He presented a proposed contract with the power company running for one month to supply electric power to the pumping plant on San Fernando Road. On motion of Trustee Jackson, the contract was approved, and the proper officials of the City authorized to sign the same.

Adjourned at 9:45 p. m.

The adjourned meeting of the Board of Trustees was held on Friday morning, and after passing several warrants they adjourned.

THE WORLD'S LONGEST BRIDGE

What is to be the longest bridge in the world is to be built across the bay between San Francisco and Oakland, California. It will be five and one-half miles long and will cost $22,000,000.00.

A REAL UNIQUE EVENT

Venice is sending out the S. O. S. for every red haired girl in Southern California. Any girl with auburn tresses, light or dark, pretty or otherwise, is wanted at the beach city on Sunday, August 18. On this day the Red Haired Girls' Carnival will be held, and a royal good time is assured every entry in the big parade.

Two hundred and fifty dollars will be given by the judges to the girlies with the prettiest hair. Five to Los Angeles city girls, five to Los Angeles county girls, and five to Santa Monica Bay girls. Each of these five gifts will be awarded solely upon the prettiness of the entries' hair. A grand gift of $25 will be given to the girl chosen by the judges as the prettiest of all the divisions. Also every girl who enters will be a guest of the city, and tickets to all the amusement concessions and rides will be given after the parade.

The Venice patrons are to be treated to one of the most novel of pleasure events ever scheduled for the greatest amusement resort of the West. Thousands of red haired girls are expected, and even if the sun don't shine there will be enough beauty and brightness to make the day unusually light. And the parade: That is going to be the absolute extreme when it comes to outshining anything that has ever before been staged. Just picture a big long line of brand new automobiles filled only with red haired girls taking up nearly the entire Ocean Front walk, each and every one as charming as girls can be. There will be three divisions: the Fashion Girls, the Sport Girls and the Bathing Girls. The parade will start at 1:30 p. m., and from the predictions of the event department, the Bathing Suit Parade will be relegated to second place.

The parade will finish at the band plaza where Sheriff John C. Cline and his board of judges will award the cash gifts to the entrants chosen as the prettiest red heads in Southern California.

They also serve who buy War Savings Stamps—if they save and buy to the utmost of their ability and buy in time.

ALLOTMENTS TO SOLDIERS' DEPENDENTS

Allotments to dependents of United States soldiers have increased from 10,000 at the beginning of the war to 100,000. For the month of May these allotments total $5,000,000. Thirty thousand commissioned officers are allotting $1,000,000 a month to their families; noncommissioned officers and privates, $4,000,000.

In addition, nearly $50,000,000 of Liberty loan bonds of the second Liberty loan will have been paid for by members of the Army and will be turned over to the purchasers during August, the payments having been made out of allotments made for the purpose.

SEND YOUR FIELD GLASSES, SPY-GLASSES OR TELESCOPES TO WASHINGTON TO BE 'EYES' FOR THE FLEET

The Navy needs these "eyes" to derive the submarine of its sting and it has requested the California State Council of Defense to help it obtain them. Commissioning hundreds of new ships for naval service has glasses far in excess of the present American output. The only way to insure an adequate supply while the manufacturers of lenses are speeding up production is by appealing to the patriotism of private owners.

The Government pays a nominal fee of $1.00 for each glass accepted and the donor is further rewarded by knowing that his patriotic contribution may be the means of saving thousands of troops in transport and also of saving much-needed shipping from destruction.

Old, scuffed telescopes or field glasses may possess first class lenses, so don't be chary about forwarding them regardless of appearance.

Ship direct by mail or express to Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Naval Observatory, Washington, D. C. Tie a tag with your name and address to each instrument.

MAILING YOURSELF MONEY

Every time you stick a Thrift or War Savings Stamp on your card you are mailing money to yourself to be received later with interest. Cashing in these stamps is going to be better than "getting money from home," for with the money comes the reminder that you contributed to the great victory which then will have been completely won.

SEVEN POUNDS LIMIT TO PACKAGES FOR SOLDIERS

The attention of persons mailing packages to soldiers is called by Postmaster Harrington Brown to a ruling of the Postoffice Department limiting the weight of parcels for troops overseas to seven pounds. Senders are also warned against packing articles in wooden boxes.

Senders are requested to keep in mind the fact that the soldier in the camp in America to whom a package is addressed may be sent overseas before the parcel reaches him. In that event the package must stand a long sea trip, and should be packed very carefully even when directed only to the local camp.

The department advises strong corrugated cardboard well wrapped in paper or sacking or cloth of some kind.
